LEXINGTON FOR EVERYONE

Lexington For Everyone promotes equitable and affordable living and working opportunities for all by advocating for sensible and inclusive land use policies that protect our scenic beauty, strengthen our workforce, foster economic vitality, and advance Lexington's unique history and cultural diversity – so that it becomes a place where everybody belongs.

THE ISSUE

As companies decide where to locate or grow their business and families talk about the most affordable places to live and work, the lack of suitable land for jobs is already showing a profound effect on these decisions and other aspects of our community that will impact the economic health of Lexington and Central Kentucky.

THE VISION. THE WHY?

To Create a Community Where Everyone Belongs

- ▲ Create housing opportunities in all price ranges for all citizens.
- ▲ Maintain a diverse and vibrant economy.
- ▲ Keep Lexington competitive for jobs and talent across all economic sectors.
- ▲ Advance Lexington's unique history & cultural diversity.
- ▲ Ensure that local policies & regulations are economically viable & do not pit one segment of our community against another.

WHAT'S AT STAKE?

HOME

Rapidly rising home prices combined with low inventory are pricing families, essential workers & first-time homebuyers out of market.

Already inadequate affordable housing stock will continue to decline.

WORK

Lexington has already lost 1,500 jobs to surrounding counties with another 1,000+ in jeopardy of relocating elsewhere, which means our city loses payroll taxes and talent.

Loss of companies results in less tax revenue for city services and schools.

EQUITY

Lack of land for economic development stifles diversity in types of jobs, homes and demographics in our community.

Focusing only on infill redevelopment exacerbates inequity & gentrification in our neighborhoods.
